We thank Margaret Georgeson nee Gaston for this letter and photo:-

Dear Village Voice, in issue 274 the photo that showed the WI group from 1944 said the gentleman second from the right was Mr Paisley, it should have said Mr Pacey.

He with his wife Mabel and daughter Peggy (pictured) were our neighbours for over sixteen years. Bob Pacey lived next door to the Red Lion Pub now a private house. He was a carpenter at Hurstpierpoint College, but he also wound the Church clock which was done manually by winding weights on cables quite heavy work. My father Bill Gaston did it for Bob if he was unable to do it.

The photo is of my mother in our front garden leaning on the fence post talking to Mabel, with Tamplins written on the wall. They were good friends.

Church on a regular basis. They were very good friends and every day they took it in turns to make tea and listen to Mrs Dales Diary on the radio. I was Peggys bridesmaid when she got married and we are still in touch she lives in Shoreham. During the war Bob bred rabbits for the table and my mother kept chickens so we often did an exchange of eggs and meat.

Mabel Pacey lived next door to the Red Lion Pub. Every Sunday morning, she got up very early to prepare the Parish Room for Sunday School and if a dance had been held on the Saturday night as they often were during the war, she and my mother cleaned up the room in readiness. She and my mother were both Marthas which meant that they cleaned the

PYECOMBE FAYRE AND FLOWER FESTIVAL Saturday and Sunday 4th – 5th September

We are delighted to announce that the Pyecombe Village Fayre and Flower Festival returns this year after last year's enforced lay-off!

The theme of the floral displays this year is "Looking to the Future" and this is what we will all be doing! The church will be open from 11 to 4 pm and you can be sure of a feast of stunning displays. Teas and cakes will be served in the tea tent and a licensed bar will be selling drinks. You can also enjoy a ploughman's lunch with a glass of wine in the delightful setting of our beautiful South Downs village.

This year's competitions will include the fancy dress dog competition which has proved so popular, but we will be introducing a "Natty Hat" competition where competitors are invited to design, make, and model their hats. Given this year's theme, there should be some "out of this world" designs.

Other attractions include various arts and crafts stalls situated around the churchyard.

What better way to enjoy a summer weekend!

PAUL ROBERTS - We were very sad to hear of the death of Paul Roberts, one of the owners of Lag Wood. Paul and his wife Sue Milnthorpe have been wonderful custodians of the ancient woodland and meadow, and very generous in allowing the community to enjoy them both. HKD Transition is especially grateful for allowing us to build debris dams along the Herring stream, reducing peak flows of the stream in the centre of the village. Paul's meticulous documentation in words and photos of the life of the wood and meadow is an amazing legacy to leave, see <http://lagwood.org.uk/>. He will be much missed by many in our community.

SEPTEMBER IS GOLD! The village is set to turn GOLD this month as HassocksGoesGold raises awareness of Childhood Cancer and much needed funds for research to combat this cruel disease. As many of you will know my own daughter Pearl died in 2017 from Ewings sarcoma and until our family was turned upside down by Childhood Cancer, I had no idea how common it is or how poorly funded. The chemotherapy treatment that she endured was not unusual in being designed for only for adults. Most childhood cancer drugs are not licenced for children, but they are given them because there is simply no alternative. As children's bodies are still growing, they need stronger treatments than adults and many children die from the cure before the cancer.

The medical staff we encountered during Pearl's 11-month treatment were on the whole fantastic but without better treatments being available there was simply nothing that was effective enough to save her. It breaks my heart every day. It is a situation that must change. Childhood Cancer kills more children in the UK than any other cause, even road traffic accidents.

Some Childhood Cancers (there are many different types) have good outcomes. There have been breakthroughs in adult cancer that have translated well to Childhood Cancers. But with the majority of cancers in children being so different to adult cancer, much more research for new treatments is needed. Currently less than 1.4% of cancer research money is spent on Childhood Cancer, a fact I find shocking. Pearl was so much more than a cancer statistic. She was, and still is, an inspiring and energetic force. Kind, wickedly fun and a delight to be around. She had so much to give to the world and in creating HassocksGoesGold I feel I am helping to further that energy even though she isn't around to do it herself.

So here we are in September. A month to decorate GOLD, to treasure what we have and to protect the children of the future. This year's theme is Golden Butterflies. Please display a Golden Butterfly poster (pictured), buy a gold ribbon, walk the Giant Gold Bow spotting trail, vote for the best Gold shop window, run the Gold Run, enter the sunflower competition, join HassocksGoesGold on Facebook to bid on the Daily Auction or take part in one of the many other Gold events this month. Let's have fun and raise some funds!

The Golden Butterfly Posters are available from QD Stationery. See HassocksGoesGold on Facebook or Instagram for event details.

All money raised via HassocksGoesGold goes to research treatments for Childhood Cancers with poor outcomes via a fund set up in Pearl's name:

HURSTPIERPOINT PLAYERS The Players are delighted to bring you some late summer cheer with their September production at The Players Theatre. Richard Harris's farcical comedy "Outside Edge" is directed by Annette Squire and as the true cricket season draws to a close all enthusiasts and/or cricket 'widows' are invited to leave their respective pavilions and join the Players in theirs – otherwise known as the Players Theatre at 147 Hurstpierpoint High Street.

"Outside Edge" follows a village cricket club captain's attempt to form a team for the regular local match, organise stumps, refreshments and pitch rolling whilst concurrently defusing the effects of several extra-marital activities. It will be presented from 13th to 18th September inclusive as part of the 2021 Hurst Festival.

Hopefully – we are always full of hope, but it is sometimes misplaced – with Covid 19 restrictions now lifted we will be permitted to sell the full house of 86 seats.

So, if you are theatre minded, or cricket minded, or both, please reserve those dates now: 13th – 18th September at 7.45 pm – tickets are on sale now either in person at the Theatre when the Festival Box Office

HAPPY NEW YEAR Each Rotary year begins on 1st July and Sussex Vale Rotary were pleased to welcome Tony Seddon as their new President, taking over from Tom Brierley, who had the challenging task of presiding over the 'Covid Year'. Despite all the difficulties the past year held, Sussex Vale has supported the local Foodbanks, Sussex Cancer Fund, St Peter & St James Hospice, Hurst Museum, Hurst Girls Brigade, the Red Cross and CAB Project Wenceslas.

In addition, our international support has gone to End Polio, the provision of clean water to schools, Joshua Orphans Care and Rotary Foundation. Sussex Vale continues its work in the local community, most recently re-opening the Memory Moments Café in Hurstpierpoint, supported by Know Dementia.

We've also financed and arranged for refurbishment of the defibrillators held at Hassocks Hardware and outside Morleys in Hurstpierpoint.

Support has continued for the provision of emergency food hampers via the local schools, with over 12 visits having been made to deliver these essential supplies to the local schools.

With the help of Hassocks Community Organisation, arrangements continue for LIGHT UP HASSOCKS

(LUH). Financing it is always a challenge and so far, a donation of £1,000 has been promised by Bellway Homes, with a further £200 from an anonymous donor. The road closure has been approved, security and First Aid arrangements are in place, and fair-ground attractions are being agreed. The usual support will be in place from Burgess Hill Radio. It is hoped to hold a concert in Mid-October to help raise funds. More details will be confirmed as the date approaches.

In order to give all this help to our local communities, Sussex Vale needs to raise money and a Race & Quiz Night will be held at the Adastra Hall on 8th October. By supporting this, you are supporting your community. Keep an eye out for information about this and our other activities on our Facebook page and website.

Don't forget, we have no admin or other costs, and you can be sure every penny raised by us will be spent on good causes. If you are interested in learning more about Rotary and how you can help or join us, please contact our club secretary on secretarysvr@gmail.com, or 07546 111996, he will be pleased to hear from you.

We thank Susan Mottram for the following letter:-
Having read the article about the businesses in Keymer Road by Tony Sharp, I hope that I can fill some ?'s

Regarding the South side, yes, the Co op, the Dairy, Lloyds Bank, Ayling & Strudwick, where Sainsburys is now and where Humanity at Heart were followed by Rocking Horse. I don't recall the Fish shop, but the Greengrocers were Eastwoods, who were also florists who later became Munro's florist. The Butchers was Rookards, then later Smith's. The Gas show-room was where Bowley's is now, I can't remember the first solicitor? The corner half of that unit in between the corner of Downsview Road was a Woodland Store, then a sweet shop called Deckers.

Across from that was the General Post Office, the sorting office behind and the GPO telephone exchange? Next was the Garage and filling station. On the other side of the bridge was Marchant and the bakers, Acres at one point.

Across the other side of Parklands Road, was the "original" supermarket, Masters & Tulley, but in my time Keymarkets, they moved into Orion Parade when the Cinema was knocked down! That was then Rayford Electrics, (Ray Horney) then Lavells moved from the other side of the road. Next to that was Deanne's a ladieswear shop, that had a cafe above at one point! Next door my memory lets me down, but then Louis shoes, where Hair Emporium is, Shaffer was where QD Stationery is now, Bennett's Ironmongers where Tim Fai is, and Princes men's, ladieswear and school uniforms! Not sure what was in the western half of the corner shop, Miss Bates and her wool shop only had the half to the East!

The cinema took the whole of what is now Orion Parade!

North side - Up at the station, where Station Garage is, was the Southdown Motor Services Bus Garage, that could hold four buses! (Latterly only two were "stabled" there). On the corner of Woodland Road was the Coal Office, then the Estate Agents Bradley & Vaughnan? Next door was Kent's Stationers, the cafe and Gents Hairdressers I don't recall? The unit where the Kitchen shop is, was Batchelors. I recall a pharmacy, but not the name, also I recall the Deli. Then Ladieswear shop was Mary Wall, then Kadarwear. Then Barclays Bank.

Across the road from the Bank was/is the Infant School, which was the only school until Downlands Secondary School was built about 1960? Windmills Junior School was built about the same time, but only had four classrooms.

After passing the URC, formerly the Congregation Church, there was Brook Stores, traditional service! Next together was the Butchers, various names, then Lavells, who as I said previously, moved across the road. Then Point Appliances had it, before Mansel McTaggart.

From the corner of Grand Avenue, there was the Midland Bank, which became HSBC, next to that was Selby's Chemist this was where the kebab shop is, in between it was Unwins Off Licence.

Next door, where Boots is currently, was a Barber's, with a Ladies Hairdressers above.

Next to that was the National Bank, which became Nat West, then the Pet shop, and Dry Cleaners, Deux Amies hairdressers and another Sweet shop! Now Child Help.

I am sure that people older than me will remember other names, and the Hassocks Past & Present did a similar project a while ago?

 With silver cut hair
 And tinkle bell chatter
 Enchanting my eyes

THE ACORNS NURSERY and Forest School is one of the Top Twenty small nursery groups in the UK according to daynurseries.co.uk. This exciting news arrived on the last day of term: a wonderful end to a year in which our children have flourished, despite the challenges of Covid.

Mrs Ann Butcher, who led The Acorns at Westmeston retired at the end of term after 29 years at The Acorns. Old and new staff enjoyed a tea-party held in her honour.

Janet Irwin thanked her for her enormous contribution to The Acorns and everyone wished her good health and happiness in retirement.

HASSOCKS BABY GROUP I moved to Hassocks from London in June 2020 at the height of the pandemic. The move was closely followed by the birth of our second child in October.

Creating a safe and welcoming place for parents and babies under the age of one to meet and play after a long, tough winter was my primary motivation for establishing the Hassocks Baby Group.

I could not have established the group without the kind and generous support of John, Jill, and Carol at Age Concern Hassocks, who have made the group feel very welcome, and provided a lovely room for us to hire. We have access to the beautiful garden, which is a huge bonus. Many thanks to all the staff at Age Concern Hassocks.

A big thank you to those of you that have come along to Hassocks Baby Group, without your support, the group would be defunct! Please keep coming, and let others know this vital resource is here.

Hassocks Baby Group meets at Age Concern Hassocks every Monday morning from 9.30 to 11.30 am. A stay and play session, with stories and songs at the end. Find us on Facebook by searching for Hassocks Baby Group, join the group and feel free to post any questions.

LET'S TALK... RUBBISH We love talking rubbish at the Hurst Rethink. It's one of the favourite subjects as our team of volunteers gathers every week to sort the crisp packets and sweet wrappers that people have dropped off to our Terracycle bins. I'm sure we'd rather be doing something else but for the time being we know that our effort is appreciated by many in our community who are loath to chuck plastic packaging in the bin.

Reducing waste is the one thing we can all do to improve our local environment and the good news is that this is going to get a whole lot easier over the next few years.

Hurst Rethink and the Parish Council had an enlightening meeting recently with Colin McFarlin, Volunteer Waste Prevention Advisor at WSCC, where we discussed some important and imminent changes to how our household waste can be recycled.

One of the main drivers of change is an old favourite, taxation. From 1st April 2022, plastic packaging that doesn't contain at least 30% recycled material will be subject to a new Plastic Packaging Tax (PPT). This has really boosted the market for recyclable plastic. Where does a lot of this plastic come from? Supermarkets? And who can now make lots more money from it...you guessed it... supermarkets. Last month we saw announcements from both Sainsburys and Co-op about increased recycling of soft plastics in store. This time next year you'll most likely be able to take most of your plastic packaging back to where you bought it - making our Terracycle collections defunct. We sincerely hope so because it's about time the supermarkets did more to contribute to a more circular economy.

Another key change is the introduction of food waste collections from West Sussex County Council (WSCC), proposed for 2022. Around 40% of the rubbish in our black bins is food waste. WSCC is currently trialling food waste collections in the Adur District Council area to determine the fine details of how collections will work such as frequency. Once the results are in, we can expect to see a full roll out. Just think, 40% less waste going into our black bins! Finally, a subject close to many of our hearts...litter. We've witnessed a lot more litter on our streets in the last 18 months, partly because the pandemic has encouraged use of disposable items. We're working with the Parish Council on a litter plan to try and reduce the amount of litter in Hurst - and encourage people to take their litter home. Details of the plan and campaign launch will follow in the next few months.

To find out more about our Terracycle collections and other activities, visit our website www.hurstrethink.org. You can also sign up to our monthly newsletter here.

HCO NEWS - SUMMER 2021 What a year this has been so far! Sadly, the pandemic continues, but at last, the vaccines, produced at near miraculous speed, are providing some protection.

One thinks of the community response to the cloud burst that hit in late June this year when water again threatened several shops near the junction of Parklands and Keymer Roads, just some seven months after the last more serious flood.

Thanks to the local villagers to push back the water, the flooding was avoided. It was nevertheless noticeable that the seasonal flooding was considerably less than in previous years. We feel certain that the work of HKD Transition and HCO within the Natural Flood Management Group to 'slow the flow' reduced the flow through Spitalford Bridge, thus allowing the surface water to escape.

We exited 2020 having organised a late evening Christmas shopping and Street Food event which was enjoyed by many. It was repeated in June this year and looks like becoming a regular treat.

The War Memorial in Keymer was looking a bit unloved and needed some TLC! An appeal via our HCO Volunteers quickly produced three volunteers. There will be a major effort again before Remembrance Sunday so we will be appealing in the autumn for a larger group to tackle the overgrown slope behind the memorial.

HCO arranged and majority funded the refurbishment work of the Monday Group on the large notice board at Chancellors Park.

Subsequently, the three rather tired oak notice boards with maps of the village on by The Hassocks Pub, the green outside Age Concern and on Keymer Parade, were expertly refurbished by Stuart from the Hassocks Repair Café.

Littering in our lovely village is an ever-present problem - solving it starts with raising awareness. HCO, the Parish Council and Downlands School together ran a competition, timed to coincide with Earth Day 2021. Posters by Haris, Olivia, Orla and Sophia were judged equal winners and produced in poster format and are displayed throughout the village. Special thanks to Downland's Gail, Tracey at HPC, Amanda of HCO, and Paddy, the railway station manager.

As ever HCO volunteers have tended the various beds and planters that do not come under the Parish Council. Catherine, Liz, Paul, and Anne spent a productive afternoon on the station platform removing the weeds and planting the shrubs in the large planter which Liz had organised from South Downs Our Village Discount Card, in support of our high street, continues to attract new businesses. We welcome the new owners of Hassocks Hardware and the new Aroma Café & Kitchen in Keymer.

We also welcome a new initiative led by Frances and Laura called Hassocks Youth Projects (HYP), which HCO is very pleased to support; HYP aims to offer bespoke events to the youth of Hassocks community. They hope to be able to start offering events from September and are currently planning to launch the following events: Accompanied Bike Rides, Baking Fun and Code Club.

Thanks, are also due to Laura for her brilliant work in integrating the HYP website with our own and re-vamping our website to also include the facility for new and existing supporters to donate on-line.

NEWS FROM STONEYWISH Long before Stoneywish opened its gates to the public, the farmyard acted as a magnet to a wide variety of visitors. There were the neighbours calling for eggs and Christmas chickens, and dear old Miss Kitson from East Gardens, who waded through the mud at the bottom of the yard to beg an occasional barrow-load of compost from the manure heap. Then the professionals; Mr Driver, the corn merchant, who came to buy wheat and sell cowcake, and Mr Turner, who came to kill the pigs and once flung a proffered meat knife at Michael's astonished father, growling in disgust. Can't use that bloody thing. It's as blunt as Old Harry! "Mr Bourne brought the 'thrasher' in the autumn and Michael remembers the excitement of hearing the great steam engine rumble down East End Lane when he was a boy. Mr Bourne drove the engine and Mr Small, who was even stricter than the pig-sticker, supervised the threshing itself. Mr. Small, formally attired in Victorian style (waistcoat, tie, and bowler hat) fed the wheat into the drum. Each man in the threshing team had his allocated part to play, some dismantling the corn stacks, others hooking up the sacks to catch the wheat and woe betide the one who handed up his bundle of corn stalks the wrong way round or fumbled with the sacks and disrupted the smooth running of the machine. The children raked out the chaff that fell beneath and swept it into a heap. Michael's Uncle Bob once started the steam engine when it stood idle and, in a feat of adolescent daring, ran it to the bottom of the yard, where it stuck fast in Miss Kitson's mud. Ruinations must have followed!

Another, great excitement for Michael and his sisters was the delivery of the barrel organ, the day before the Fair. This barrel organ, which played a vital part in the village festivities, was brought from London, and lodged overnight in the Top Yard and the farm children had the fun of grinding out tunes on it before it made its official public appearance. The arrival of the barrel organ meant the end of feverish weeks of preparation as legal families and business competed to build the most elaborate floats for the Fair Day procession. It also brought the giddy promise of Harris's swing boats and merry-go-rounds in the North Star Field.

The farmyard was a good place to find material for a float.

On one occasion the Alford's dressed as gypsies and set out in style on a cart decorated with a campfire tableau. For the occasion Michael, now a bit older, had felled a tree and set it up on the cart, for rural effect. Soon after turning into East End lane this tree became entangled in the telephone wires and had to be ignominiously felled a second time. But the genuine gypsies were good friends to Michael and taught him how to collect and sell scrap metal and he soon built up a sizeable spoil heap beside the barn.

This, in turn, attracted a new visitor, for Rowland Emmett, the cartoonist and kinetic sculptor, lived just down the road Emmett was always on the look-out for the quirky items he incorporated into his machines and when he was not in the Hassocks Hardware shop, examining the egg-whisks and feather dusters, he was often hovering about Michael's pile of scrap, scavenging for old wheels and pipes and bits of propellor, these were clearly identifiable in his early sculptures. In time, Michael became Emmett's gardener and odd-job-man and the gentle genius, who described himself as 'the Ditchling tinkerer', is celebrated today in a mini-museum, affectionately dedicated to him on the Reserve.

Three large oil paintings show the farmyard as it was in the old days. The barn stands, dwarfed by massive elm trees, the pond, later separated from the farm, holds the cowstalls and haystacks in reflection. The artist, Ethel Rawlins, who lived in a cottage in Field Way, just a short walk away, would arrive with her paints in the 1940's and sit amidst the ducks and chickens to capture a world that was soon to change forever. Unable to raise the money to buy these paintings when they came up for sale, Michael offered to do Miss Rawlins' garden, until he had paid off the debt. Add to these visitors, the tramps who occasionally took a night's lodging in the barn and the swallows, which arrived every year to fill the building with their chattering, teaching their young to fly from beam to beam before they went wheeling out into the blue beyond. Add also a succession of friends and helpers who turned up to 'muck in' at haymaking and harvest time, and last, but certainly not least, the scores of families and children who have come to picnic and play and make the place their home for the day. Now the old farmyard is no longer part of Stoneywish, but the visitors still come, and the Campsite has its own community of friends and neighbours. The sight of campfires at dusk and the sound of children's voices keeps the spirit of the place alive - perpetual welcome.

Michael's museum is now open, providing glimpses of the farm and surrounding villages in their many incarnations.

Enjoy the fruits of hospitality this summer and may your guests always find pleasure and interest at your door!

ASH DIEBACK is a serious disease that is killing Ash Trees across Europe. Young tree can die quickly once infected. Older trees can be slowly killed by a yearly cycle of infection.

We have been steadily removing the worst affected trees in the wood since 2018 but now the disease has taken hold here, so we are taking action for the safety of our visitors and neighbours by removing all ash trees with significant decline next to footpaths and properties.

Although the work may look drastic, please be assured that it has been carefully planned with consent from the Forestry Commission and in line with the Woodland Trusts ash dieback Position Statement <https://www.woodlandtrust.org.uk/publications/2019/06/ash-dieback-position-statement/>

We are only removing ash trees where we have to. Ash trees out of falling distance of footpaths and properties and those showing the most significant sign, of resistance to the disease are being retained and monitored. The works start in September and are taking place outside of bird nesting season. We will aim to avoid the wettest periods to minimise the impact on the soil and ground flora where possible. Timber will be extracted, and branches cut up to avoid smothering the woodland floor.

The majority of the wood's trees, including oak, hornbeam, hazel, wild cherry, hawthorn and silver birch are unaffected by the disease and will maintain habitat for wildlife while their saplings will gradually fill the gaps where ash used to be.

Thank you for your support and understanding. We hope this reassures you that our management decisions are centred on the best long-term interests of trees and woods, and the people and wildlife that depend upon and benefit from them.

That wood will remain open throughout the duration of the works, but some footpaths will be closed or diverted with signs and barriers to maintain safety while the works are taking place. We apologise for any inconvenience caused.

reMEMber (the Chronic Fatigue Syndrome Society) Our Newsletter is now online and can be accessed on our website – www.remembercfs.org.uk. Our Autumn edition will contain news about reMEMber and what's going on in the world of CFS/ME. Articles include the new organisation Doctors with ME, how to manage relapses, exacerbations and flare-ups, the new Guidance from NICE, and dysfunction of the immune system, as well as amusing articles from two of our members who have ME.

Also, on our website you can access videos of presentations by top doctors at our Zoom conference last November.

We are trying to raise funds to set up an exemplar service for people who have ME (Chronic Fatigue Syndrome). This could be a team consisting of a consultant physician, specialist nurses and rehabilitation staff. This would demonstrate to the NHS just what is needed throughout the UK.

So, all donations to reMEMber, however small, will be very welcome. To find out how to donate, or for information about ME or the work of reMEMber, go to our website – www.remembercfs.org.uk. Or e-mail us at me\_cfs@hotmail.com.

REPAIR CAFÉ HASSOCKS OPENS IN SEPTEMBER

After almost a year of operating remotely, the Repair Café Hassocks will be opening face-to-face at last on Saturday 25th September from 10 am to 12.30 pm. After that it will be open every fourth Saturday (Hassocks Market Day) apart from December and August. You'll be able to bring your items for repair, talk to our repairers and have a cup of tea or coffee while they look at what's needed. Some repairs are simple enough to do at the café, others will be taken home by our repairers, and you can pick them up when ready. From 1st September you will be able to book a slot for the opening day on our website <https://www.hkdtransition.org.uk/repair-cafe-hassocks> or on Facebook facebook.com/repaircafehassocks/.

Our amazing repair volunteers have responded to almost 200 repair requests in the last 9 months. We can't repair everything, but we can point you towards professional repairers who may be able to help if we can't. Even if you don't have something to be repaired, or have already had a repair done remotely, do come along and say hello.

DEATH'S-HEAD HAWK-MOTH In August I was sent a photo of a giant caterpillar seen in an Iford garden. The colourful caterpillar, garish yellow with flamboyant blue chevrons and spots, was shuffling along on its stumpy legs like a miniature conga-line in search of a party. The caterpillar would have buried itself in some soft Sussex soil and, within its cocoon, would have undertaken an amazing transformation. Around November, a completely different beast will be emerging from the Iford earth and into the night skies, a moth. But, with a 12 cm wingspan and ornate patterned wings, this is no ordinary moth. Its beauty should be admired and respected if it wasn't for one small thing. Stamped on its thorax is the spectral image of an eyeless human skull, an eerie façade that has given it its name, the Death's-head hawkmoth.

The moth's baleful birthmark has, for centuries, struck fear into the hearts of superstitious humans who have seen it as a messenger of the Devil. And, according to legend, this rare moth seems to have put in regular appearances throughout history. Even learned naturalists once claimed that the moth was a "foretelling of war, pestilence, hunger, and death to man and beast." Legend has it that the appearance of a number of Death's-head hawkmoths signalled the start of the French Revolution in 1789. The moth appeared in the bedchamber of King George III; a visitation that allegedly tormented the crazed monarch and sped him to his demise in 1820.

The Death's-head's notoriety has continued to seep through the centuries in art and literature. It appeared prophesying doom in Thomas Hardy's 'Return of the Native' (1878) and was an instrument of evil in Bram Stoker's 'Dracula' (1897). In the surrealist film 'Un Chien Andalou' (1929) it gave life to Salvador Dali's nightmares. In 1968's English horror 'The Blood Beast Terror' Peter Cushing was on the trail of a monster that was half-woman and half-hawkmoth. In 1991 the moth was seen perching on the lips of Jody Foster on posters advertising 'The Silence of the Lambs'. In the film its cocoons were placed inside serial killer Buffalo Bill's victims as a grizzly calling card (the hawkmoths that appeared in the movie were a different species to the ones that appeared in the original story; only a minor point but it did ruin the movie for me somewhat).

Like all moths the Death's-head hawkmoth is harmless. It is a largely African species which some years undertakes an amazing migration north, arriving on extremely rare occasions in Sussex. Of course, its links to death and destruction are just superstitious claptrap. But with a Death's-head on the loose in Sussex this Autumn I'd keep your windows closed, just in case.

VACUUM CLEANER SERVICE CENTRE

STEVE'S BACK PAGE GOSSIP

Welcome everybody hope you are all enjoying your summer freedom.

Here's a little bit of local gossip. The dance shop lady has got her wish and will be opening her dance wear shop in what was Age UK, we look forward to that.

A lot of my customers are telling me about the Butterfly Gardens at Middleton Common Farm and how fantastic it is. If you haven't checked it out yet I'd certainly put it on your 'to-do' list. Still in Ditchling my favourite farm shop Perrets has had a re-fit with new display counters to show off more of their home reared meats, great place, great people, love it, give it a visit.

Continuing on from last month..... Do you know one day you'll wake up and it will be the best day of your life because on that day you'll meet that very special person you're going to spend the rest of your life with. I remember that day like it was yesterday, I was beginning to change a bit, my voice was deeper and my jodhpurs much tighter. A friend of mine - Liz Owen - who had a horse which she kept in a stable in her back garden and I'd ride for her when on the odd occasion she couldn't because of an ongoing health condition, had called me to ask if I'd mind taking it to the Yateley Horse Show. I was going anyway and taking Hawk, he was on the riding for the disabled stand raising much needed funds, he enjoyed the adulation he got for being famous. Liz asked me to call at her house early to collect her horse Angus because he was entered in the first show jumping class. I walked down her garden path to the stable where Liz was standing with his tack, she welcomed me and said I hope you don't mind but my friend who is mad about horses is coming along to help as a groom. I said that's fine because grooms are very useful people. She's just picking his feet out, this is my good friend Nola, at which point this little face appeared over the stable door, I went to say I'm very pleased to meet you - but my mouth wouldn't work. I had just come face to face with an angel, never had my eyes seen anything so beautiful. If anyone ever tells you love at first sight doesn't happen then call them a liar because it just happened to me. Now don't get me wrong the pony club was full of beautiful girls, a lot of whom were good friends, Jackie Fairfoul, Terri Clark, Belinda Downs, Terri and Jeanie Gardiner to name just a few, but there is beautiful and off the scale beautiful. I remember very clearly getting into the horse box and looking at Hawk and saying to him I think I have just met my destiny. The worst part of all this was I had to spend the day with her and try not to act like a prat, I also had to jump a horse and act professional - like I knew what I was doing although my brain was addled, my heart was beating so fast I couldn't get my breath. I kept saying to myself come on Stephen pull yourself together, just calm down, then she'd say something to me and I'd be back to square one - a gibbering idiot. Anyway, eventually the day drew to an end and I went to check on Hawk, he'd had a good day raising money and I'd had a good day wondering what the hell to do next. Funny thing was Hawk could tell I was different and I wasn't the full ticket, so for some reason he decided to stand on her foot. She was very good about it and said not to worry but it just made me realise that she wasn't just beautiful to look at but was the nicest kindest person you could ever hope to meet. What do I do next? After all it's not every day you meet perfection, mind you to this very day she still reminds me that Hawk stood on her foot and points to the mark he'd made.

Hawk had picked up a new trick, just before we'd set off at the start he'd do this Lone Ranger Zorro Esq rear up on his back legs, it was just to show off - mind you I wasn't any shrinking violet which was lucky because life again was about to go up a gear. All of a sudden I found myself on a V.I.P invitation list to premier events, all sorts of invites were coming through the door and frankly I was very confused by it but decided I'd better step up and make the most of it. To this day I can only guess how I got on the list and now I had someone to take with me, we've now been married 48 years, the same length of time we've been here in Hassocks - How times flies!

Love Steve
