NEWS FROM STONEYWISH These past few weeks of sunshine have brought the kind of Spring one dreams of for a lifetime. The natural world throws all caution to the winds and seizes the moment. That evil storm of February is a distant memory; next week's forecast of snow is pure supposition. Nature lives only in the present which, just now, is carpeted with wind-flowers and dog violets along quiet country paths and serenaded with birdsong. The pussy willows are transfigured as they bury themselves in a froth of seal-grey catkin fur and golden pollen: heaven for the fat bumblebees which hum in the canopy. Only humans note the massive limbs recently torn from trees and anxiously consult their phones to see whether it is safe to put out their bedding plants. Of course, it isn't! It is still March. The windflowers have the wisdom of a thousands of winters encoded into their fragile memory. They have seen it all before. Through warm periods, cool periods, mini-ice-ages, they have gone on seizing the moment, colonising an inch of ground at a time, wherever the opportunity arose. They are truly wild. Truly old. Like the natives of Sussex, they 'won't be druv'. I have tried planting them in the Nature Reserve, selecting the perfect spot, giving them the optimum conditions, loving, hoping, waiting... Nothing! The same with violets. But the violets have now decided this place is good and are moving in fast of their own accord. We have one patch of 'original' hedgebank where dog's mercury grows in spring and the diminutive moschatel, both plants with simple green flowers, which come and mind their own business and disappear each year without anyone much noticing. They are perhaps our oldest residents. When we see a veteran oak, we know it is old. But a veteran patch of untitled ground has its own equal mystery and magic. Wind-flowers grow on the site of ancient woodland coppice. Bluebells are indicators of the same. It is hard to imagine how something as vulnerable and temporary as a flower, or a lump of moss, a fragment of lichen, can be an 'elder' too. But something happens to land which is left to find its own coherence. Yes, without the grazing of larger animals, there comes scrub and nettles and everything gardeners deplore, but a larger landscape without larger animals is like a body without one of its vital organs. If there are no passing deer or wild boar, then humans may have to 'graze' and rootle in their stead. But if a community of plants is allowed to establish itself naturally, then eventually the 'elders' may be enticed to return and bring their magic with them. The slowness is all. Stability and continuity are all. One could make a GM wildflower meadow in a season, but it would require the interventions of Roundup and ploughing before it could be sown for another year. It may take 30 years or more for the veterans we love to re-colonize a patch of ground. Too long for moderns to wait. But there is a much better and more fulfilling way for us to benefit, which is by not turning our own ground continually upside down. That way we can inherit the years already allowed by others to whichever plot we happen to land on. Suppose everyone kept a wild corner – not for bug-hotels and seed-packs of bee-friendly flowers from the Garden Centre, though by all means have those somewhere – but a patch of land which is allowed to evolve in peace? Suppose we were each, in our own way, to invite the ‘elders’ to come amongst us once more, to create, or rather allow pockets of wildness in our midst without ascribing to them any human-serving agenda? Such spaces, loosely linked, might constitute an alternative landscape where Man and Nature could exist in trust and where the intelligence and integrity of Nature could speak to us, cautioning against our collective catastrophic will to power. This will not help the skylarks which have nested where the bulldozers are already at work. But it will keep alive in our minds and hearts the memory of a world whose wisdom is older than ours, quieter, more patient and hopefully more resilient. For inspiration, come and see how the wild has reclaimed the ground round the ponds at Stoneywish. Thirty years on, it is ours today!

Come here also, if you are interested in seeing how this corner of the world looked and lived a century or so ago. Michael has set up a new exhibition of vintage photographs and memorabilia in his Visitor Centre Museum and a phone call is all it takes to book yourself a guided tour from the man himself and take a peek at any albums relating to your own special interest. The telephone number is 01273 843498 or you can email to stoneywishnaturereserve@gmail.com.

Easter will be gone by the time this goes to print – but I wish you all the restorative, regenerative blessings of spring. New leaves, new lambs, ducklings, moorhens, new salad leaves, (those pesky but delicious dandelions and cleavers growing round the back of the shed!), new insights and delight in simple things. These are all free. All fuelled by their own energy. Food for Life! Enjoy them.

DITCHLING FILM SOCIETY On Thursday, 19th May we shall be showing Minari. Yearning to own a small patch of land, Jacob Yi relocates his Korean/American family – sceptical wife, Monica and their children, David and Anne - from California to 1980's rural Arkansas to start a fresh life and capture the American dream. However, new beginnings including finding out what is best for the family let alone starting a new business on a 50-acre farm to grow and sell Korean vegetables (minari), proves easier said than done. Despite sincere promises, cultural unease, fleeting hopes and the constant threat of financial disaster, Jacob is convinced the family has found their own slice of Eden in the rich dark soil of Arkansas. However, can grandma Soonja's humble but resilient minari help the Yi family figure out their place in the world?

Director: Lee Isaac Chung, USA 2021, 115 minutes, Cert PG 13.

On Thursday, 2nd June our film will be Petite Maman which is a heartbreakingly hopeful fairy tale for all ages. Eight-year old Nelly (Josephine Sanz) has just lost her beloved, maternal grandmother and her parents go to her mother's childhood home to clear it. Nelly's mother (Nina Meurisse) is deeply upset by the whole process and leaves during the night without saying goodbye to her daughter. A little later, after exploring the house and then going into the woods to play, Nelly meets a similar aged girl building a treehouse. The girl, Marion (Gabrielle Sanz), is extremely friendly and invites her to help and what ultimately transpires is a tender tale of childhood grief, memory and connection.

The Foot Nurse

Director: Celine Sciamma, France 2021, 72 mins, Cert PG.

The films will be shown in Ditchling Village Hall. Films start at 8 pm. Doors open at 7.30 pm. Wine will be available before the film and there is ample free parking behind the Hall. Guests and temporary members are welcome for a small charge payable at the door.

AT THE WINDMILLS JUNIOR SCHOOL a group of passionate parents got together to try and do something within the community to raise money for the awful situation in Ukraine. They organised a number of events around the village and in school they set up a cake sale. There was an excited buzz from the children in the morning as all the donated cakes were collected in. They were then even more excited to sell and eat these after school. Thank you so much to the wonderful parents for organising this and supporting the challenging situation in Ukraine. Thanks to all those who brought cakes or baked for the sale, an amazing £523 was raised! Two weeks prior to this, the parents were incredibly generous in their support of Red Nose day raising a staggering £713.50 for those in most need.

During the spring term Year 3 have continued their learning on Ancient Greece, looking at Greek art, vases and columns. They have also been representing patterns in different ways and making their own Greek pots and temples in multimedia, which they were very passionate about. A couple of weeks ago, Year 4 took part in Titanic day. By using props and costumes, and dancing to music from the era, the children were able to experience what life may have been like for the different social classes on board RMS Titanic. In Maths, the children have been learning about symmetry and have been exploring horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines of symmetry using the Numicon shapes on a baseboard. The children challenged each other to complete different symmetrical patterns.

In mid-March a group of Year 4 children took part in an Adventure Education morning at Plumpton College. The activities were run by BTEC students, under the supervision of teaching staff. One group of children worked on den-building, focusing on how to provide shelter from the elements and how to make their structures strong and stable. The other group took part in an activity using verbal instructions to guide their blind-folded partner along a woodland rope trail. Then the tables were turned, and the children designed their own trail for the leaders to navigate! Both activities were great fun and provided the chance to work cooperatively, share ideas, problem solve and think creatively. The children all made the most of this opportunity and approached their tasks with real enthusiasm and team spirit.

Year 5 recently took part in an egg drop experiment in Science, which the children enjoyed very much. This was a really practical way of learning all about the force of air resistance and friction which counteracts the effects of gravity when something is falling. Out of nearly 100 eggs only a few broke which showed great preparation and egg-traordinary skill!

In March, nine year 5 children took part in a netball tournament. The tournament was held at Downlands with nine other local schools. The Downlands sports leaders lead the event and they did a fabulous job. This was the first time our children had played against another school, after only 6 weeks of attending a new netball club. They did so well - they won 4 and lost 4 matches. The team showed great determination, positivity and grew in confidence as the tournament progressed. They came joint 5th - congratulations to the team for all their efforts. Thank you so much to their coach who showed such passion and commitment to giving them this opportunity.

In English, Year 6 have been focusing on descriptive writing and looking at a haunting wartime book named Rose Blanche by Roberto Innocenti. Along with detailed illustrations they have been able to write atmospheric descriptions of different scenes. The children tried to use a variety of language fea-

HURSTPIERPOINT GYMNASTICS CLUB

21st Arts Competition Success

Overcoming the current restrictions, the Club held its 21st Arts Competition in front of its own gymnasts, spread over five evenings.

The competition attracted over a hundred gymnasts to perform in the four different categories for trophies and medals in Hoop Pairs, Beam Pairs, Ribbon Solos and Sports Acrobatic Sixes.

With free and open entry, some of the competitors only joined the Club in the Spring term, while some of the Seniors have attended the Club for over ten years. The gymnasts chose whether to enter, then chose which sections to do, their own music and then create and practise their own routines for performance.

The Beam Pair competition involves mounting the beam and performing six different skills before dismounting. This year's winners were :- Year 3 – Freya Gofton & Mimi Steiner, Year 4 – Gracie Smith & Aimee Morley, Year 5 – Hannah Dare & Elitha McKenna, Year 6 – Summer & Alexis Sargent, Year 7+ – Isabel Faulkner & Grace Balcombe.

VIVACE! IS BACK WITH A CONCERT FOR UKRAINE The friendly Ditchling-based choir Vivace! is pleased to announce that it has survived the pandemic. Our summer programme includes a concert in aid of Ukraine in the Great Hall at Danny House, Hurstpierpoint on 15th June at 7.30 pm.

Tickets are available from Suzy Smith, email suzy4restoration@hotmail.com or ring 01444 471363. The grounds at Danny House will be open from 6.30 pm and doors open at 7 pm. All proceeds are to the DEC Ukraine Humanitarian Appeal.

LET'S MAKE AND OPERA! Find out how we do it at two Heber Opera workshops. Heber Opera, the Hurstpierpoint based opera group, is planning two opera workshops on Saturday 21st May (Steyning Centre) and Sunday 22nd May (Uckfield Civic Centre). Each workshop will concentrate on chorus sections from a different opera. The days will begin (time to be confirmed) with learning the music and be followed by acting out the drama. At the end of the day's workshop, solo singers will join the participants to present the piece to friends, family and anyone else who would like to come along to an informal performance in the evening (there will be a minimal audience charge).

The cost of taking part in each workshop covers the music and provision of tea/coffee refreshments. The viability of these workshops depends on the number of participants so if you are interested and wish to know more please contact our musical director Michael Withers on 07802 735190 or michael@michaelwithers.co.uk.

The closing date for entrants is Friday 6th May when full details of the workshops will be circulated.

DEATH BY DESIGN (11th to 14th May) Following on from a very successful launch in January the Ditchling Players are once again treading the boards but this time we're not alone as we're being joined by another local group.

Mid Sussex Theatre Productions arose from the late Haywards Heath Operatic Society and although relatively have already put on a successful production of '39 Steps'. The play that's been chosen for this collaboration is 'Death by Design' by Rob Urbinati. Set during a weekend in an English country manor house in 1932, the play combines the plot of an Agatha Christie thriller with the wit of Noel Coward. Playwright Edward Bennett and his actress wife, Sorel Bennett flee London and head to Cookham after a disastrous opening night of Edward's latest play. Various guests arrive unexpectedly, amongst them a Conservative politician, a fiery socialist, a near-sighted ingenue and a bohemian artist and dancer – each of them with a long held secret. When someone is murdered it's left to Bridgit, the feisty maid with a macabre interest in murder to find out 'whodunnit' in her own inimitable style.

Tickets are on sale now and are available either online (booking fee applies) at ditchlingplayers.org.uk or at The White Horse, Ditchling (cash only). We are also aware that some of our audience don't venture out at night and so are pleased to announce that there will be a matinee performance on Saturday 14th May at Ditchling Village Hall. Doors open at 7 pm (Curtain up at 7.30 pm) for the evening performances and 2 pm (Curtain up at 2.30 pm) for the Matinee.

Both MSTP and the Ditchling Players look forward to welcome you to what will be both a successful and productive collaboration for both groups.

HURSTPIERPOINT OPEN GARDENS IS

BACK! We are delighted to announce that we will be opening on Sunday 19th June, to raise money for St Peter and St James Hospice. We're aiming to have about 8 gardens open around Hurst. It's a lovely, sociable, event, and it's an important fundraiser for the Hospice.

We'd love to hear from anyone in Hurst who might be interested in opening their garden. It doesn't need to be big, or weed free, or perfectly designed – just something that will be interesting to people. We're open to offers from people in any part of Hurst – especially gardeners (or allotment owners) within walking distance of the High Street.

If you think you might like to open, please contact Prue Heron – prueheron@gmail.com or telephone 07769 904724. One of the organising team would be very happy to come and visit your garden to answer any questions and talk about what's involved.

We didn't have a speaker but committee read out excerpts from some of our very old documents, which were from a collection of articles commemorating women's social history through sixty years from 1929 to 1989 – my how we have progressed since then!

Our next meeting is on 24th May when our speaker is Andy Thomas who will explain the probability of U.F.O's or not! We meet at Age Concern Centre at 2.30 pm. Visitors welcome. Sheila Southwell

IMPROVING BIODIVERSITY IN OUR VILLAGES WITH NO MOW MAY

After the success of last year's No Mow May campaign Hurst Rethink and HKD Transition invite the residents of our villages to once again make our gardens more nature friendly by not mowing our lawns in the month of May. By coming together en masse to take part in the charity Plantlife's 'No Mow May' campaign, we can collectively make a real difference to local wildlife - and pollinators in particular.

In the UK, we have lost nearly 7.5 million acres of flower-rich meadow and pasture since the 1930s, and now only 1% of our countryside provides flowers for pollinators.

However, there are 15 million gardens in the UK and our lawns have the potential to be a major wildflower nectar source - a staggering 200 species are known to grow on lawns. In fact, incredibly simple changes in mowing can result in enough nectar from common flowers such as daisies, dandelions, buttercups and clover for ten times more bees and other pollinators. More bees and other insects also mean more food for creatures further up the food chain - so by encouraging those at the bottom, we benefit many more.

Our local campaign in Hurstpierpoint & Sayers Common, Hassocks and Ditchling supports a national survey run by the charity Plantlife called 'Every Flower Counts'.

In 'No Mow May' we simply ask that you leave your mower in the shed for the month of May, then record what flowers you have on a sample of your lawn at the end of the month on the Plantlife website - www.plantlife.org.uk/everyflowercounts/. By doing this you will get your very own personal nectar score which shows how many bees your garden can nourish. It's a great thing to get the whole family involved in.

We're working with local schools and community groups to encourage take up of No Mow May and Plantlife have agreed to give us a BN6 nectar score to show how many bees our gardens have fed during May! Discover all the details on our website, www.hurstrethink.org

If you don't want to leave your whole lawn, just a patch is equally fine, just think of it as a loan to the wild residents of your garden. We look forward to seeing the results.

CRIME IN THE CARIBBEAN, FICTIONAL AND ALL TOO REAL

There's more to crime in the Caribbean than TV's 'Death in Paradise.' Neil Sadler, in Jamaica, helping train the local police force, became interested in the real-life adventures of eighteenth century pirates. At the u3a's March meeting, he showed how figures like Blackbeard, rightly notorious for their cruelty, had another side. 'Gentleman Pirate' Stede Bonnett paid his crew wages and the Pirates Code allowed crews the vote on important decisions and awarded compensation for loss of limbs. Another modern touch was Neil interspersing his talk with bursts of reggae and steel drums making for an all-round entertaining afternoon.

RAVEN May 14th 1264. The aftermath of the battle. Two thousand corpses lie strewn on the slopes and riverbanks around Lewes. Some view this as a victory; for others this is defeat. But for a large, black bird who has calmly watched the bloodshed from the side-lines, this scene of slaughter is an all-you-can-eat buffet. Democracy never tasted so good.

Smart birds, Ravens. Way before 1264 they'd realised they needn't waste their energy killing to eat when other less intelligent species can do the dirty work for them. For centuries Ravens exploited man's enthusiasm for resolving quarrels with clubs and swords. Ravenous Ravens dined out at all the finest battlefields, burial grounds, gibbets and gallops.

Hanging around with corpses would get anyone a bad reputation but the Raven's took on mythological proportions. Across the northern hemisphere the bird became respected and revered by many cultures as an omen of death, denizen of the after-life, messenger of defeat. This sinister CV secured them a plethora of portentous appearances in everything from the Old Testament to Game of Thrones. The sight of a Raven struck fear in the heart of man who would dare not harm it. Today Ravens still occur in our folklore as the earthbound spirit of King Arthur, and at the Tower of London the birds are entrusted with the fate of the kingdom. Yet aside from all the make-believe malevolent accolades bestowed on the Raven, it truly is magnificent to watch. As befits Britain's wickedest bird, the Raven certainly dresses the part in a costume of sleek, glossy black feathers, shaggy 'beard' and stout dagger beak. It commands the sky; wheeling on wide wings and uttering its guttural 'cronk cronk' call. Sometimes their behaviour is incongruous with their evil image. To see Ravens rolling and tumbling through the air during their joyous display flight is like catching the grim reaper doing the hokey-cokey.

When not busy instilling fear in the population, Ravens performed an important clean-up job riding Britain's towns of rotting rubbish and the bird was protected by royal decree. But in the 17th century people's perceptions changed and for centuries the birds were persecuted. Ravens, and the old beliefs they represented, were exorcised from England. By 1895 they had vanished from Sussex. But informed, tolerant attitudes have recently allowed Ravens to return. They mostly breed on our chalk cliffs and quarries but can be seen flying over our towns and cities. In our comfortable world of surround sound and selfies there is something reassuringly sinister about watching a Raven circling overhead; a spectral souvenir of our brutal, primitive past. Sussex will never again be the site of a bloody revolutionary battle. But there's no harm in a few Ravens hanging around. Just in case.

KEYMER FOLK DANCE CLUB Attendance has been encouragingly high and the club looks well set to weather the Covid storm. The club is approaching its Summer Break now but that doesn't mean that there will be no dancing. On Monday 6th June members and friends will be dancing in the open air at our Summer Dance on Ditchling Green. Starting at 7 pm there will be live music and the dances will be led by Sean Goddard. Admission will be payable on the door.

The Committee would also like to remind members that they are invited to the Annual General Meeting on Monday 16th May which will, of course, be followed by dancing.

In September the club will resume the regular club nights on 1st 3rd and 5th Mondays of the month at 7.30 pm for 2 hours at the United Reformed Church Hall in Hassocks.

On offer is a wonderful nursery and forest school for children aged 2 to 8 and a forest school programme for home-educated children.

We offer 'Stay and Play' sessions for parents and toddlers and a Holiday Fun programme for 2 to 11 year olds from 25th July to 19th August.

Westmeston has enabled Janet Irwin, the teacher owner, to develop an outdoor programme for nursery age children and those older ones being home-educated or deferring entry to school. With a 'can do' attitude, and mixed age group, the children thrive and have a wonderful sense of wellbeing.

If you are looking for a traditional, nurturing, nursery school, with an early introduction to literacy and numeracy, plus an optional reading scheme and lots of outdoor play and forest school adventures too, please come and see us.

A WEAVING OF JAZZ JEWELS AND POETRY, Holy Trinity Church, Hurstpierpoint. Saturday 18th June, 6 to 7.30 pm.

Hello friends, Vocalist Lou Beckerman here. Together with BAFTA award-winning pianist Joss Peach, we are delighted to be putting on another intimate, jazzy and poetic evening.

Those who came to our 'Raise the Roof' show for the South Downs Refugee Project (SDRP) at Danny House last August had a taste of our performance, and many have kindly asked when we might play locally again. This will be another fundraiser for SDRP, our local community initiative to welcome a refugee family to the area, as well as for Holy Trinity Church, Hurst.

There'll be a mix of jazz and a peppering of spoken word pieces - some newly written. I've been scribbling away during lockdowns and am looking forward to sharing them with you. Joss's versatility and warm manner have made him a firm favourite. He loves to sing too so watch out for a duet or two... We've previously played in the church and love this glorious setting.

Tickets can be reserved by email: margaret@112a.co.uk or phone 01273 835113. You'll also be able to donate to SDRP on the night.

To find out more about the project you can visit www.southdownsrefugeeproject.org. Very much looking forward to welcoming those of you who can make it.

Lou

We thank Derek Swaine Chairman of The Hassocks Field Society for the following reply:- Dear Name and Address supplied - Snowdrops, I was very interested to read your comments in the March Talk About. Perhaps if you had asked the 'tall gentleman' you would have found out that the snowdrops were in fact being planted.

I think a few facts are in order.

John Gray, the Field Society Outings Coordinator, organized a yearly trip to a venue with snowdrops. When he sadly died in 2007, as then Chairman of the Parish Councils Environment Committee, I suggested that we planted a large number of snowdrops in the Memorial Garden.

This we did, paid for by the Hassocks Field Society and this was well received by the Society and the Village.

The following year I suggested that each year Mrs Gray and myself plant more bulbs, purchased by the Field Society. Since then we have planted over 9,000 snowdrops in the green, observed and approved by many passing villagers.

As Chairman of Hassocks Horticultural Society I would also point out that you plant with a bulb planter and you dig up bulbs with a trowel.

I would welcome further discussion.

RESPONSE TO SNOWDROPS IN LAST MONTHS ISSUE I refer to your April edition and the article entitled Snowdrops.

The person who chose to remain anonymous has cast a shadow over an outstanding member of our community who is the chairman of two of our village societies.

This gentleman was not in fact stealing these bulbs as mentioned in the article but was in fact planting 700 new bulbs supplied buy funds from one of the societies to enhance the memorial path in Adastra. Had this person asked him what he was doing he would have enlightened them, rather than them walking on and presumably thinking that he was in the act of stealing them.

LIVING WITH SIGHT LOSS – HOW 4SIGHT VISION SUPPORT CAN HELP

4Sight Vision Support has been providing support and specialist information to blind and sight impaired residents of all ages throughout West Sussex for the last 100 years. Some core services have changed very little, others have changed enormously or been introduced as times and technology moves on, and in 2021, major service updates were introduced as a direct result of experiences gained during the pandemic.

A sight loss diagnosis can be a devastating and life-changing time. In the run up to Global Accessibility Awareness Day on 19th May we'd like to highlight how we can provide one-to-one assistance if you or someone you know needs support, or if you yourself are supporting someone with sight loss. Our services are free and you do not need to be referred.

We can: Help after diagnosis at the eye clinics to enable you to understand your eye condition, the registration process, and promote good eye health. Help you connect with others, sharing experiences and support.

Provide assessments to identify magnification techniques and products to help with everyday tasks such as reading, shopping, medication, preparing meals.

Help with accessing benefits and concessions with assistance to complete forms, such as Personal Independence Payments (PIP), Attendance Allowance (AA) and Blue Badge.

Enable you to remain independent, communicate effectively, and develop new skills with the help of technology.

Provide appropriate and up to date information, advice, and guidance in formats accessible for you. Support with education, training, learning, and employment.

Enable you to access leisure, social, health and wellbeing activities within your community

If you'd like to find out more, or are interested in volunteering or fundraising for us, please call on 01243 828 555, email enquiries@4sight.org.uk or visit www.4sight.org.uk.

HURSTPIERPOINT HISTORICAL AND GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

With the departure of Lynn and Nigel Pink for Norfolk we are in urgent need of some new members. We are a very friendly society, and new members are always welcome.

We meet on the last Friday of each month in the Guide Hall next to Trinity Road car park. We always have a presentation by an expert speaker on a subject of historic or geographic interest, usually concerning Sussex but sometimes from wider afield.

At our last meeting on 25th March our scheduled speaker, Melanie Gibson-Barton (subject the Suffragettes), was unable to attend. Fortunately, we were able to get Dr Geoffrey Mead of Sussex University who gave a presentation on the River Adur from source to sea.

The speaker for our next meeting will be Chris Horlock. He will give his presentation on Sussex Witchcraft on Friday 20th May starting at 8 pm. So that gives you some idea of the variety of subjects discussed at our meetings. If you would like to join us, please contact me - telephone 01273

A HOSPICE'S OPEN GARDENS SCHEME, which has been hit by the pandemic, received a boost from horticultural quarters this week.

St Peter & St James, in North Chailey, were given £500 towards production of the event's brochure as a gift from family-run South Downs Nurseries in Hassocks.

The Stonepound Garden Centre also donated bedding plants, raised at their on-site nursery, which the hospice will sell to boost their funds.

"We had heard how the popular Open Gardens had taken a back seat during the pandemic", said Rebecca Houghton-Knapp from the business. "And it was a pleasure to assist as the hospice are hoping to raise plenty of funds in the coming months."

GIFTS FOR HURSTPIERPOINT GIRLS A youth group's badge-work exercise has been made easier thanks to a donation from a Sussex Charity and Hassocks Garden Centre.

Working together, the Budding Foundation and family-run South Downs Nurseries have given 1st Hurstpierpoint Girls' Brigade all they need for the youngsters' plant care work.

The Rev'd Will Fletcher visited the Brighton Road garden centre to collect a selection of interesting succulent plants, together with pots, compost and grit to help with their project.

Said Clive Gravett, founder of the Budding Foundation: "It is always a delight to be able to help youth groups and to foster their enthusiasm for gardening and environmental projects."

STEVE'S BACK PAGE GOSSIP

Well, here I am on the cusp of 70 and strange things are starting to happen. For example just the other day an official brown envelope landed on the front door mat – at last I screamed, finally after all these years waiting it's arrived! My knighthood for services to film and literature. But no it wasn't that at all it was a letter from the DVLA telling me that as I was now 70 years old I had to reapply for my driving licence, what's that all about? Mind you my biggest concern is where have the last 10 years gone? They seem to have gone by in the wink of an eye but I'm very lucky I have no aches or pains or arthritis and this I put down to a couple of things, CBD oil which makes me feel like the Indian rubber man and being a workaholic which keeps me very active in both mind and body. Like the engine of a car – stop using it and it'll just cease up.

I do wish I had better teeth, I really am like an old horse my teeth are a mess what I have got left that is. Being dentist phobic hasn't obviously helped, in the old days I used to go to Mr Casey in Hurstpierpoint who was lovely he understood my needs, good low costs and virtually pain free dentistry. After he left I didn't see a dentist for years, Gavin wasn't bad but the cost just kept going up and up, so here I am deciding what to do next, spending money on myself is not something I do easily. Those people with great teeth and no animals must really be quids in. Two of the most expensive doors to walk through these days must be vets and dentist, in that order and things are only going to get worse, trouble is most vets are now owned by these huge Equity Corporations and they determine the fees charged it is now dearer for your dog to have dental work than it is you. Harking back to the old days again I remember Graham the vet over the road in the original Ark Vets – he was lovely – a man who joined the profession because he wanted to help animals and their owners and not charge them the earth. He left soon after Ark Vets became part of the Equity Corporation that now controls them and eventually retired from the profession altogether.

I am always fascinated what goes through peoples minds when trying to think of ways in these strange times to make money. I suppose we all do it from time to time, Bit Coin I suppose was one of them on the other hand you could open a Vaping Shop, now I know nothing at all about this habit and it must be a habit or you wouldn't do it. It is a safer alternative to smoking cigarettes but you don't see shops just selling cigarettes anymore. In the old days tobacconists shops were on every High Street. My Granddad was a pipe smoke. One day I went with him to the tobacconists on Camberley High Street, it must have had at least 50 different pipes on the wall plus cigarette holders and 100's of different tobaccos, some loose some in small cans. It had everything for the smoker and the smell of all the loose tobaccos was actually quite intoxicating. I was about 12 at the time but the smell of that shop I shall never forget, eventually these specialist shops disappeared and along came the newsagent which swallowed up that sort of business. So in Hassocks we have 6 outlets for smokers and vapers, so I was a bit surprised that someone would take on the old Pavilion Electrics to open a vaping shop, if cigarettes are eventually banned, as is the wish of this government, then vaping will become more popular but I think that is a long way in the future. As with all new businesses we welcome them and hope they do well.

Thank you for all the food etc you keep bringing in. Never throw anything away, if it can't be used abroad then the food banks here will take it to help people struggling to feed their pets. Please keep your High Street alive – shop locally whenever you can
